

e-Sussex Broadband Rollout May 2013 – March 2017

Where and When in East Sussex and Brighton & Hove, as at 31/3/2017

- The following table sets out the outline plan for proposed rollout of faster broadband in the e-Sussex project area (based on detail available March 2017). Please note that this is high level information and we do not have accurate data at all postcode or premises level.

- * Deployment phases are normally advised one month after the end of every quarter for Contract 1 and every six months for Contract 2. Communities may sometimes see work happening on the ground before a deployment phase is advised. However, we only publish information once it has been formally notified to us as part of contractual requirements. Information regarding Contract 2 will be included as it is formally notified to us (starting August 2016).

- Due to the changing nature of deployment all information is indicative only and is subject to change. Rollout happens in concurrent phases (9 in total for Contract 1 and 2 for Contract 2) with planning, surveying, and infrastructure build continuing in each phase. “The Big Build” video in the News section of our website www.esussex.org shows how the new network is built. We may return to exchange areas to complete works at different times: sometimes this is because there are properties that are harder to reach that will need a different technology solution; sometimes a particular cab will need more work, for example, and may be put into a later phase. Delivery timeframes are not guaranteed and forecast dates may move forwards as well as backwards.

- There is a joint BT/ESCC project team in place who work closely together on the ongoing development, delivery and review of this plan.

- Information below is based on exchange areas. Exchanges normally take the name of the town in which they are located. In rural areas these exchanges usually provide services, not only to the town in which they are located, but also to nearby villages. To find out your nearest exchange please go to: http://www.samknows.com/broadband/exchange_search . To find which telecoms cabinet you are served from please go to <http://www.dslchecker.bt.com/adsl/adslchecker.welcome>. You may also find our information leaflet “How to find your exchange and cabinet” useful. This is posted under the News section of our website www.esussex.org.

- Information is published at exchange level since network architecture does not conform to town/village/district boundaries. Towns and villages may be served by more than one exchange and postcodes may be served by more than one cabinet or other telecoms structure..
- There are some Frequently Asked Questions at the end of the table which may help with any questions you have.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

How are you prioritising areas for rollout?

This is a complex civil engineering project that needs to take into consideration existing infrastructure and value for money from the public purse, all from an engineering point of view. We will also have to take into account other works, e.g. highways improvements, so that we minimise disruption whilst keeping rollout going so that everyone can be reached as quickly as possible

How will I know when faster broadband is available for my home or business?

You may receive information from internet service providers and other channels when higher speed fibre broadband is available in your area.

The information in this rollout table and the postcode checker on the website appear to be different. Why?

The postcode checker is based on modelled information that was supplied when the contract was signed in 2013 and which is a high level guide only. The rollout table contains the latest information at structure level, not postcode level, which is updated regularly as infrastructure plans are confirmed and delivered.

Once high-speed fibre broadband is available in my area do I need to do anything?

Yes, you will not be automatically upgraded. You will need to contact your internet service provider to discuss upgrading your package to a fibre based package if you want to upgrade your speeds. If you don't want to upgrade, you don't need to do anything.

I have seen engineers in my area. Does this mean work is starting now?

Engineers make frequent visits to an area as part of their planning. They could be carrying out surveys, clearing manholes, cutting down vegetation, deciding on best locations for cabinets and a myriad of other things. This is all preparatory activity prior to works actually starting and could happen some time beforehand, meaning that seeing engineers does not indicate works about to start.

A new telecoms cabinet has just been installed in my road. Does this mean I can order fibre broadband now?

Before a new cabinet is ready to provide better broadband services to customers it has to be connected to the new fibre network we are building. Installing new fibre spines tends to take longer than installing a new cabinet so very often you will see cabinets in place some time before they can be used. Cabinets also have to be connected to power and a range of tests needs to take place to make sure everything is working properly before we make it "ready for service".

What is the difference between Fibre to the Cabinet and Fibre to the Premises?

Fibre to the Cabinet (FTTC) provides a fibre path between a cabinet and the exchange. The final leg uses the existing copper network between your home and the cabinet. FTTC is the most widely used infrastructure in the UK and the most cost effective solution for deploying broadband services in the majority of situations.

Fibre to the Premises (FTTP) provides a fibre path connection direct from the exchange to a central FTTP point in the community. It can provide faster speeds as a result, although the speed depends on the level of package you decide to purchase from your Internet Service Provider. Sometimes Internet Service Providers make a charge for connection from your property to the central FTTP point and you may find it helpful to shop around in order to make comparisons.

I have seen an article about new technology. What does this mean for the project?

BT and Openreach are developing new technologies all the time with the aim of pushing fibre further across areas, including those that are more difficult to reach using more traditional solutions. The ESCC team discusses technology developments with BT and Openreach, and all new technologies that are available are assessed for use although there would need to be formal agreement to the contract to allow this to happen.

Why has it previously said “deployment phase still to be advised” in some places in the table?

Although there is a high level deployment plan BT Openreach has to plan at a localised level. Every quarter they tell us where they expect to be delivering next and until they do this, remaining structures remain “still to be advised”. This does not mean that they are forgotten or will not be done, simply that detailed planning for delivery has not yet been completed. All timeframes remain advisory and are not guaranteed. We appreciate that this is very frustrating for communities who are not yet connected, however this has always been a three year project and it is just not possible to do everywhere at once.

My village is not listed in the table. Does this mean it has been forgotten?

No. Every community is covered by an exchange area and we are doing work in every exchange area in East Sussex. The fact that individual communities are not listed is not a cause for concern. It is simply that exchange areas do not conform to village/town/ward/postcode boundaries. Our work, and our data, is exchange area based and it is difficult to give information at lower level than this, except at structure level as in the rollout table above. A good example of how complex exchange areas are is Laughton, which is served by exchanges in Ripe, Chiddingly and Halland – with several premises served by the exchange at Ringmer.

Contract 2

BT is currently working on the high-level planning and design of works under a new contract (contract 2), which are technically complex. An updated postcode checker has been published. Build works for Contract 2 provisionally begin towards late summer 2016, although time frames may change once planning is completed.
